Birmingham Pub

"Traditionally British"

Recreating a traditional British pub in the heart of Frankfurt am Main, Birmingham Pub always guarantees a good time. Situated in an area frequented by tourists, this pub is always bustling with energy, no matter when you drop by. During the day, it caters to tired tourists with some delicious burgers and schnitzel, not to mention beer. At night, though, the transformation into a late-night bar is seamless, attracting party animals and sports fans alike. Happy Hour from 6p to 9p is a good time to enjoy the selection of beer, whiskey and wine.

Zum Schwejk

"Rustic Gay Bar"

Charming and down to earth, Schwejk is one of the city's most interesting gay bars. It is an institution in Frankfurt and there's always a friendly feel, with plenty going on. The atmosphere at weekend is great, but it's worth coming to this rustic bar during the week too. Schwejk is redecorated according to the season, and not just during the carnival and Christmas period. Themed parties, fun events and a host of other daily specials keep the locals coming back for more.

Switchboard

"Informative Bar for the Gay"

Run by the Frankfurt AIDS help group, Switchboard is more than a café: it offers a wide range of information on all aspects of gay life. A meeting place for all kinds of gay groups (fetishists, gay and lesbian youths, bisexuals and homosexual fathers), the clientele doesn't just consist of beautiful young things, but rather reflects the whole spectrum of gay life in the city. They also have regular awareness and other events of which the proceedings go towards Aids related work done by the organization.

Bar Central

"Smart Bar & Delicious Cocktails"

A trendy bar painted in blue and black, illuminated by dim lighting, and with soft background music, Central is a popular meeting point for gay intellectuals and beautiful young things, as well as artists and students. The best thing to drink is a Caiphirina, a strong cocktail made of lime juice, sugar and rum. Unfortunately, the bar is not easy to find as Elefantengasse is a small alley hidden away behind Alte Gasse. Happy hour is from 8p-9p.

Harvey's

"Crossover Cuisine"

With its baroque decor, high ceilings and ornate wooden and gilded decorations, Harvey's is a joy to the eye as well as the palate, a perfect combination of moderate prices, elegant decor and friendly service. A wide selection of international breakfasts is served until late in the day, while the evening menu contains some fascinating culinary concoctions. Choose from an array of crunchy salads, mouthwatering desserts and delicious local snacks. The cocktails are also highly recommended. children's playing area engages children while adults savor the fine menu.
