Balalaika

"Happening Jazz Venue"

Frankfurt's night scene is mostly dominated by suave and trendy cocktail bars, but if that is not your scene and you're looking for something edgier and retro then head to Sachsenhausen where you will find Balalaika. In operation since 1968, this live music club was opened by American jazz singer Anita Honis. The cozy venue carries a unique charm magnified by the jazz and blues. Anita herself takes to the stage occasionally to serenade the crowd of expats and locals. For the regular line-up schedule keep a tab on their Facebook page.

Clubkeller

"Club And Bar"

Clubkeller is housed in a cellar. The ambiance is quite intimate with an easy-going crowd walking in all the time. It does have a bar as well where beer is served in plenty. The music played here differs from techno to pop and so on. The lighting helps to perpetuate a cozy atmosphere. Playing host to well-known and upcoming bands and musicians, this is a great place to catch really good gigs and concerts. Also a great place to meet the 'in' crowd of Frankfurt. Check the website for a complete list of events.

Musiklokal Südbahnhof

"Food, Music & Fun"

Musik-Lokal Südbahnhof effortlessly bombards your senses with multiple delights. It serves good food, lots of alcohol and a steady stream of exciting events. All kinds of artists come and perform at this joint, like Waymond Harding and his Soul Protectors, Teresa Kästel, Step and many more. Saturdays often see the 30+ Party, where you can dance to music all night long. Not only can you get a night full of dancing, you can sit down to a fine meal as well. Try out the hearty Schweineschnitzel "Wiener Art" or the "Cordon Bleu" vom Schwein, both come with Pommes Frites

Batschkapp

"Live Rock And Pop Acts"

In operation for more than three decades, Batschkapp is a popular rock and pop concert venue which has outlasted many of its rivals. Other music styles such as heavy metal, Indie, crossover and hip-hop bands also feature here. However, a line up of live performers makes this venue an outstanding one. International names like Lenny Kravitz, Nirvana and REM have graced their stage. Batschkapp is a great venue to enjoy fun-filled weekend nights.
