

"Best Tapas in Washington DC"

Realizzata per : Cityseeker

📍 3 Posizioni indicati

📷 by jeffreyw ©

La Tasca

"Tapas At Tasca"

La Tasca is a great place to splurge on Spanish cuisine in true Spanish style with plenty of traditional dishes to choose from, accompanied by fine wine and sangria and lots of flamenco dancing. It is located close to the major attractions of the city making it a busy dining spot. Try the charcuterie, chorizo, Paella del Pescador or seafood paella. One can also try the tasting menus. The restaurant has a warm and friendly staff and a cozy ambiance.

☎ +1 202 347 9190

🌐 www.latascausa.com/site/locations/washington-dc/ ✉ info@latascausa.com

📍 722 7th Street Northwest, Washington DC

Jaleo

"A Taste of Spain"

This casual restaurant takes its name from John Singer Sargent's painting El Jaleo. A large mural of a flamenco dancer, based on Sargent's work, adorns a wall in the restaurant and sets the casual tone of the interior. Jaleo is the perfect place to drink sangria, devour tasty tapas and tantalize your taste buds with paella. Flamenco dancers entertain the crowd on Wednesday evenings.

☎ +1 202 628 7949

🌐 www.jaleo.com/ ✉ downtown@jaleo.com

📍 480 7th Street Northwest, Washington DC

📷 by TheCulinaryGeek ©

Bodega Spanish Tapas & Lounge

"The Spanish Flair"

Bodega Spanish Tapas & Lounge will cocoon you in a wonderful Spanish experience, from the food to the decor. The menu is known for its recipes that replicate the cuisine from the Iberian Peninsula. Choose from their range of tapas and paella to gorge on and accompany it with some cocktails or wines. The restaurant is covered in hues of black and grey, with splashes of red that give it a vibrant feel. The best time to visit this restaurant is on a Thursday for dinner, when guests can engage themselves in an entertaining flamenco dance.

☎ +1 202 333 4733

🌐 www.bodegadc.com/ ✉ info@bodegadc.com

📍 3116 M Street Northwest, Washington DC DC

UNIRSI A NOI A :
cityseeker.com