Hotel Monaco

"Romantic Decor, Attentive Service"

In 1997, a few million dollars went into the renovation of this 11-story building, transforming an old functional bell-switching facility into a luxurious boutique-style hotel. The 189 rooms, including 45 suites, have the feel of a fine English bed and breakfast. Despite the hotel's romantic feel, business travelers will also feel right at home because every room has a fax machine, two data ports and plenty of desk space. The hotel offers room service and has a fine dining restaurant, Sazerac, downstairs. Enjoy complimentary wine service in the evenings.

Inn at the Market

"First-class Setting and Service"

Better known than its neighbor, Pensione Nichols, Inn at the Market boasts of an envious location right within the bustling Pike Place Market. With such a location, nothing is too far from your room from eclectic restaurants to places of interest. The elegantly furnished rooms afford stunning views of the city's coast as well as the market itself. Each of the rooms are differently decorated; some with light woods while some with dark. Each room comes with its own iron and ironing board, refrigerator, coffeemaker and soft terrycloth robes. Rooms have floor-to-ceiling windows, large bathrooms and views of downtown, Pike Place Market or Elliott Bay. Room service dinners come from the acclaimed Campagne restaurant. Complimentary town car service and privileges at a nearby private health club are included.

Hotel Andra

"Extreme Comfort & Elegance"

Quality comes at a price and the Hotel Andra is no exception. However, the amenities and services that accompany the prices are certainly worth it. Each of the bright luxury suites and rooms come with Egyptian cotton linens, goose down pillows, spa robes, complimentary toiletries, tea service and flat-screen TVs. The hotel has tie-ups with yoga clubs, athletic studios and swimming pools in the vicinity if you're looking for preferences and discounts. For those who don't want to step out at all, there are in-house catering and spa services. Business facilities leave nothing to the imagination, while dining at the hotel's award-winning restaurant is a pleasure. The Andra is also the perfect haven for honeymooners, who can avail of special romantic get-away packages.
