Cafe Brasil

"Inner-loop Java House"

This little java spot opened in the early 1990s, long before the corporate coffee house popped up on every street corner. After a renovation, it became a great spot to sip coffee while playing a game of chess. Nowadays, it is also a good place to grab a bite to eat. In the morning, you can have a hearty egg breakfast, the Eggs El Salvador are a favorite, or fresh muffins, bagels and pastries. For lunch or dinner, there is a wide variety of pizzas, sandwiches, burgers and appetizers for an overall casual dining experience.

Agora

"Hip Aegean Hangout"

Agora is way more than just a great cafe. Besides the fact that they sell fine European ales, sweet post-dinner beverages, and snacks, they also have a true hip identity. Nestled along Houston's vibrant Westheimer Road, Agora can easily serve as whatever you need it to be. Time to kill? There's no better place. First date? You can stay as long or as short as you need, having chosen an impressively unique spot. Even take a client there for an informal meeting. This eclectic café captures the essence of community, blending a warm and welcoming atmosphere with a touch of bohemian charm. With its diverse range of seating options, from cozy couches to outdoor patio spaces, Agora offers the perfect setting for relaxation, work, or conversation. The aroma of freshly brewed coffee fills the air as baristas expertly craft each cup with care. Whether you're indulging in their artisanal coffee creations, savoring a delectable pastry, or immersing yourself in the vibrant local art, Agora promises an unforgettable journey for coffee lovers and creatives alike.

Empire Café

"European Style Cafe in Montrose"

Located on the outskirts of Houston's colorful Montrose area, the Empire Cafe is a delightful spot for enjoying a brunch date, meeting friends for dinner, or ending the evening with coffee. Sit on the patio after ordering one of the inventive specials displayed proudly above the cakes at the dessert bar, and the busy Westheimer traffic doesn't seem quite so oppressive. Although the dishes are less inspired than the specials, their wide variety of consistently delicious cakes, the bold coffees, and the bright camaraderie are the reasons to visit this delightful and humble inner Houston cafe.

Salento

"Coffee, Wine & Snacks"

Salento is a wonderful Latin American café/wine bar combo in the heart of the pleasant Rice Village. Their coffee is some of the best in the city, with well-trained baristas manning the steamer. The wine list includes several gems from South America, with great happy hour discounts. Get a window seat along the front wall and people-watch while listening to their mix of mostly underground music. Order a chicken empanada - the best snack in the city!

Sweet Factory, A

"Delicious Mediterranean Sweets"

You need to treat yourself for coffee and sweets! A Sweet Factory is just the place, with decadent Mediterranean pastries galore. The flaky crust of buttery Croissants or fresh baked sweet Baklava with spring-green pistachios goes perfectly with some cardamon tea or rich Middle Eastern coffee varieties. They also have some of the best pita bread you'll ever eat, so pick some up for your after-work snacks for the week. You might also consider their custom gift baskets, giant party trays, and super moist cakes, which is appropriate for all occasions. You'll smell their delicious and satisfying pastries from the parking lot.
