

"Best Seafood in New Orleans"

Realizzata per : Cityseeker

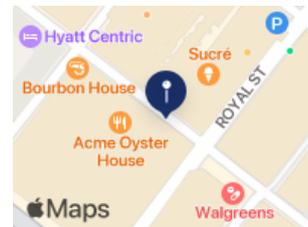

📍 6 Posizioni indicati

Acme Oyster House

"Fine New Orleans Seafood"

Acme Oyster House has been a mainstay in the NoLa dining scene since its inception in 1910. This iconic restaurant, with its vintage neon signboard, serves up a unique take on local flavors. Their signature raw oysters are a must have, followed by coastal specialties like Poopa, French bread canopy stuffed with sausage and shrimp gumbo.

📷 by Ken Lund ©

☎ +1 504 522 5973

🌐 www.acmeoyster.com/

📍 724 Iberville Street, New Orleans LA

Oceana Grill

"French Quarter Seafood"

Situated in the French Quarter, Oceana Grill has a sterling reputation as one of New Orleans' best seafood restaurants. Open late, Oceana serves hungry locals and tourists alike a delicious array of seafood. Entrees like the Redfish Oceana or the Blackened Bayou Duck are always favorites, though it's hard to find a dish here that isn't tasty. Fresh seafood, a convenient location and a convivial atmosphere makes this French Quarter establishment a great choice for a meal.

📷 by Artie04 ©

☎ +1 504 525 6002

🌐 www.oceanagrill.com/

📍 739 Conti Street, New Orleans LA

Corner Oyster Bar & Grill

"Famous for Oysters"

Located in the French Quarter, Corner Oyster Bar & Grill is usually crowded all day, with most regulars frequenting it for breakfast, lunch and dinner. The restaurant specializes in seafood, serving Popcorn Shrimp with special sauce, Bacon salad and the Oyster dishes which cannot be missed. Accompany your meals with a drink from the full bar for a complete dining experience. Featuring 16 large screens that broadcast the season's best games, you will not miss any of the exciting action. On most game nights, the ambiance is noisy and the place a tad too crowded with locals cheering on their favorite team. Watch the season's most awaited games in company of friends, while you snack on tapas and chilled beers.

☎ +1 504 522 2999

🌐 www.corneroysterhousefrenchquarter.com/

📍 500 Saint Peter Street, New Orleans LA

Peche Seafood Grill

"Delectable Seafood"

The Peche Seafood Grill is one of the most popular restaurants in the city's dining scene. Its fine flavor and quality has caught the attention of locals who have made it their regular dining spot. Specializing in under-sea creatures, the most famous item is the roast whole fish made from daily catch. All food is cooked in an open-fire, tossed and sauteed with care. The desserts are also delectable and should not be avoided.

📷 by larryjh1234 ©

by moguphotos

Snug Harbor Jazz Bistro

"Live Jazz & Creole Dining"

Snug Harbor Jazz Bistro as its name suggest is a cozy restaurant in the city that offers patrons some splendid jazz performances alongwith delicious food. A host of different artistes, each with their individual style entertain the audience who keep coming back for more. The subdued lighting and wooden furnishings make a rustic setting for the world class performances. The food and wine also celebrate the occasion.

+1 504 949 0696

www.snugjazz.com

info@snugjazz.com

626 Frenchmen Street, New Orleans LA

by Alan Levine

Parkway Bakery & Tavern

"Best Po'Boy's"

This New Orleans institution has such a wide-reaching reputation that even President Obama has sampled its offerings. Come here to get your hands around a poor boy (or po'boy) sandwich, a Louisiana traditional submarine sandwich. The sandwiches come in all varieties, from barbecued beef and charbroiled hamburger to grilled shrimp and oven-cooked turkey. Whatever you try, it's sure to be uniquely delicious.

+1 504 482 3047

www.parkwaypoorboys.com/

538 Hagan Avenue, New Orleans LA

UNIRSI A NOI A :
cityseeker.com