Simpson's of Potts Point

"Delightful Hotel"

Steeped in history, this hotel began life in 1892 as Potts Point Mansion. Today, it is an excellent example of restored architectural heritage in quiet, leafy surroundings. Small, yet luxurious, the rooms are well appointed and you will receive a warm and friendly welcome. From here you are within easy walking distance of the Royal Botanic Gardens and the city beyond. This is also an excellent location for exploring the delightful bays of the Eastern Suburbs.

Tara Guest House

"Urban Experience in Rural Setting"

Giving a total country feel in the rather city styled area is the Tara Guest House. This small yet beautiful place exudes a vintage vibe with their creeper covered balconies and antique looking doors and windows. The place is awarded by Trip Advisor and Traveller's Choice as being one of the best bed and breakfast places in Sydney and Australia. Their sumptuous breakfast menu and cool verandah setting will surely win your hearts over.
