Sassafraz

"French and Californian Cuisine"

This upscale French-Canadian eatery in the posh Yorkville area draws crowds for the usual reasons – great food, service and ambiance. But you might get a bonus chance to catch a glimpse of celebs like Mick Jagger, Charles Bronson and Sylvester Stallone. Included under the same roof is the bistro, with live jazz. Dishes range from Butter Poached Monkfish Fillet and Roasted Normandie Duck Breast to Veal Sweetbread Medallions. The wine list features more than 100 selections.

360 Restaurant

"Dineren Met Uitzicht"

Niets kan het werkelijk verbluffende panorama hier overtreffen. Rustig draaiend op ongeveer twee derde van de hoogte van de totale 550-meter hoge CN Tower, kunt u genieten van een adembenemend uitzicht en een award-winnende keuken. Voeg hier een onberispelijke service aan toe en u zult begrijpen waarom 360 Restaurant weken van te voren volgeboekt is. Canadese invloeden domineren het menu met opties zoals geroosterde lamssrib met gestoofde prei en varken in gerookte barbecue-saus. U kunt ook kiezen uit de 400 verschillende soorten wijn om dit overheerlijk eten mee aan te vullen.

Auberge du Pommier

"Classic and Romantic"

Located south of Highway 401 on Yonge Street, these two cottages have been transformed into one of the best restaurants in the city, specializing in French country dining. Auberge du Pommier was voted among the top 10 tables in Toronto by Gourmet magazine. From May to September, you can dine alfresco in a secluded terrace brimming over with flowers. Come winter, move inside to enjoy the wooden beams and stone fireplaces. Dishes include Rack of Lamb, Cream Sweet Corn Bisque and Smoked Breast of Capon. Indulge yourself in the impressive wine selection which consists mostly of French and Californian.
