Via Mercanti

"Authentic Pizzas"

Most of the dishes that one orders at Via Mercanti will require both hands to eat, such is the portion and filling inside. This neopolitan pizzeria is located inside a 19-century building, it is a low-key restaurant decorated with Italian paraphernalia and furnished with wooden tables, chair and flat screen TVs. Their menu is quite extensive and features varieties of pizzas and pastas, along with other specials like veal scaloppine and lamb chops. Food can be complemented with beers, they have almost eight on tap or neopolitan wines or the Mural from the Amalfi coast, from where the owner hails.
