Heart Coffee Roasters

"Straight From the Heart"

Although minimalistic in design, Heart is a cheerful and welcoming cafe where friends, colleagues and family can come together over cups of expertly crafted coffee. Heart prides itself in offering its customers only the very best, and every cup is prepared from coffee beans that have been roasted in-house in small batches. The cafe offers a selection of espresso-based drinks, drips, and pour-over coffees alongside made-to-order AeroPress and delicious pastries. Although free WiFi is available throughout the week, the internet is usually turned off on weekends to provide customers an opportunity to leave work behind and spend some quality time alone or with loved ones.

Stumptown Coffee Roasters

"Local Brews"

In an era when out-of-town coffee giants are making it difficult to raise a cup of java without seeing a corporate logo, this down-to-earth place is a welcome relief. Using one of the original names for Portland, stretching back to when the city had more stumps than people, the small cafe prides itself on its distinctively local feel. Built around a working coffee roaster, Stumptown Coffee Roasters is a casual spot. From in-house roasted beans, to fresh bagels and pastries from local bakeries, the cafe is a Portland original.
