Tanner Goods

"Rich Leather Products And More"

Tanner Goods is one place where you can find high-quality, unique leather items. Whether you wish to purchase a unique wallet, a belt, gloves or bags, Tanner has stocked them all in their warm and well-lit store on the Burnside Street. The space has a rustic character with exposed-brick walls and wooden beams adding to its charm. The stocks are limited which is only a testimonial to the fact that the company believes in quality and not quantity. Their products, albeit pricey, are worth every dollar spent. Every buy from here is sure to last for a long, long time there by validating the cost. In addition to leather items, the place sells casual clothing for men.

Gem Set Love

"All That Glitters"

Specializing in vintage jewelry with a focus on estate pieces and engagement rings, Gem Set Love in the Northwest Portland area is the place to go for one-of-a-kind jewelry. Owner Paula Bixel's love for antique adornments fueled her desire to turn a passion into a business; thus Gem Set Love was born in 1994. Since then Bixel has built up a shop known for its quality pieces from local designers and estate sales. Prices accommodate any budget from a few hundred to rings that cost more than many people make in a month.

Betsy & Iya

"Ultimate Fashion Bliss"

Betsy & Iya has garnered quite a clientele owing to their exquisite jewelry pieces. Made on-site, bracelets and rings are their highest selling items, but the place is also known for their necklaces, earrings and other quirky accessories. Albeit small, the store has a charming layout where style oozes from every corner. Accessories are neatly lined throughout the space allowing you to peacefully browse through the collection. You are sure to find many pieces that will complement your style sense and personality but if you don't, then you can always get pieces customized according to your own taste. Their staff is highly knowledgeable and their suggestions can be blindly relied upon.
