Millyard Museum

"Industrial History"

A museum which details the history of the area in which Manchester was formed, the museum tells the story all way back to the origins of human civilization in the area 11,000 years ago. Then visitors are taken on a ride through time focusing on the years when Manchester with the Amoskeag Millyard were a industrial force to be reckoned with. Exhibits continue all the way up to the present day with Manchester as a great place for people to move to, live, and work. Artifacts on display make the past seem more real, and there are a number of exhibits to peak the interest of children. A way to understand Manchester's past.

SEE Science Center

"Science Becomes Fun"

How often do children sit in a science classroom, bored by what their teachers are explaining? Much too often! This will never happen at the SEE Science Center where exhibits, demonstrations, and displays help children and adults understand the world around us. Robots, gyroscopes, lights, electricity - all can be experienced at the Center. One of the most popular exhibits combines history with science and fun. The largest permanent LEGO minifigure structure in the entire world resides in the SEE Science Center. It depicts the Amoskeag Millyard at the height of its power as the largest producer of textiles in the world. The scale, 55:1 matches the scale of the LEGO people to make the exhibit as accurate as possible.

Kunstmuseum Currier

"Absorbeer Amerikaanse en Europese Kunst"

Trek wat tijd uit om wat spectaculaire Europese en Amerikaanse kunst te absorberen in het Currier Museum of Arts. Het museum presenteert een prachtige collectie van schilderijen, foto's en sculpturen. Het dankt zijn bekendheid echter aan zijn impressionistische schilderijen die de werken van grootheden zoals Picasso, Monet en O'keeffe zijn. Er is ook een goede collectie aan glazen presse-papier, inclusief een aantal kostbare Franse glazen stukken. Tentoonstellingen, rondleidingen en concerten worden gedurende het hele jaar georganiseerd voor de echte enthousiastelingen. Vergeet niet om een unieke souvenir mee te nemen uit de cadeauwinkel op uw weg naar buiten.

America's Credit Union Museum

"Museum of Firsts"

America's Credit Union Museum commemorates the first credit union in America, one started right here in Manchester, New Hampshire. But the museum does not cover such a limited scope - instead it details the history of credit unions from its beginnings in Europe, to its role in the United States since 1908. The role of the credit union during the Great Depression is explored, and visitors will see a human side to the story of the credit union.

Aviation Museum of New Hampshire

"Celebrating Aviation"

Not only has the Aviation Museum installed itself in a 1937 art-deco building on the grounds of the Manchester Boston Regional Airport, but the inside is as beautiful as the outside. The museum focuses on events and artifacts relevant to aviation in New Hampshire. The museum can also be open to groups when not open to the public, simply call in advance and arrange a visit.
