Flurys

"European Delights"

Park Street is lined up with a variety of restaurants, but none are as grand and historical as Flurys. Started by Mr and Mrs J Flury back in 1926, it was known as tea room that served delightful cakes, tastiest pastries and puddings and the most requested European and Swiss chocolates. Till date, Flurys retains its exclusiveness and penchant for serving the best of and exotic confectioneries. You can select the goodies you want from the take-away counter or sit down and relish the unique dishes. With recipes like linzer and sacher tortes, the European influence is very evident. Flurys also serves excellent varieties of coffee and tea. It also takes orders for cakes for all occasions including requests for egg-less and sugar-free ones. While the menu is westernized, Flurys does have special parties during festivals like Durga Puja to Rakhi. Anyone who visits Flurys to buy a particular food item, is always tempted by the mouth-watering treats displayed and ends up with loads of cute little pink Flurys bags.

"The Original Denims"

Levi's is one of the most adored international brands in Kolkata. This store on Shakespeare Sarani showcases the latest trends in fashion for men, women as well as children. The busy street has a host of other shops, but Levi's is usually one of the most crowded. Apart from the signature denims, you can also find a number of interesting accessories and other knick-knacks. During the Durga Puja season (usually between October and November), the window display is made vibrant to match the festive air and interesting sales and discounts are introduced. Other Levi's outlets can be found at New Market (Lindsay Street), City Centre (Sector 1, Salt Lake City) and 31 Park Mansions on Park Street.

Adi Dhakeswari Bastralaya

"All About Sarees"

Shopping for clothes in Kolkata is not such a bad idea, especially if sarees are on your shopping list. The traditional Indian garment can be found at various places all over the city, but Adi Dhakeswari Bastralaya has established itself as one of the most trusted names in the industry. The brand has been around for decades, the Triangular Park branch being their first big outlet in the city, the original store being located at Gariahat Junction. While the window display is colorful enough, inside you will find the entire color palette, packed and stacked on the store's shelves. Baluchari, Kaatha, Taat and Gadat are the different types of sarees available here.
