Dock's Oyster House

"Surf & Turf Specialties"

One of the most popular restaurants in Atlantic City, and rightly so. Opened in 1897 by "Dock" Dougherty, Dock's has been family-run for three generations and still serves up some of the best steaks and seafood around. An extensive list of fresh oysters from all over the globe is complemented by hearty entrées such as Rack of Lamb and Crab Meat au Gratin. A comprehensive wine list of classic and esoteric varietals and blends allows you to choose the perfect accompaniment to your meal. Open everyday from 5pm until closing.

Atlantic City Bar & Grill

"Surf or Turf"

The Atlantic City Bar and Grill is a place to relax with friends while enjoying reasonably priced munchies and drinks. Homemade pastas, pizzas, sandwiches, salads, and more populate this menu and most are available for under $10. If you're in the mood for something more substantial, the restaurant also offers Whole Maine Lobster and Fillet Mignon.

Tony Boloney's

"Amazing City Grub"

Tony Boloney's serves American cuisine out of a landmark building located in the historic Atlantic City Inlet. As the winner of the Guy Fieri Cheesesteak Battle on Food Network, Tony Boloney's is a must-visit while visiting the city. The restaurant also holds pizza making classes every Saturday, has live music, and holds the worlds largest pizza eating competition called Pizza Slaughterfest.
