Isotope

"Comic Book Heaven"

Whether you are a comic book collector, or a casual comic book reader, you will find a visit to Isotope worth your while. Anyone living in Hayes Valley who likes comics and graphic fiction, knows this place, and that is not just for its impressive collection of books, though it is very commendable. This lounge-cum-comic-book-store brings the best of both together to create a unique gallery-cum-reading-room kind of place, where customers can lounge around on the leather sofas while reading a book or two, or attend a live event featuring known names in the comic books business. What's more, you can tag along your furry four-legged friend to partake in this experience, since Isotope welcomes dogs.

Japantown

"A Peep into Japan"

San Francisco Japantown Center is a major attraction that reflects Japanese regalia and arts and crafts through a number of showrooms, galleries and bookstores. Its almost like a mini-Japan in the heart of San Francisco. Also known as Nihonmachi, the area serves as a rich treasure of Japanese culture and tradition in the form of clothes, literature and the like, perennially stacked in the several stores tucked inside the center. Japantown also has movie theaters and hotels.

Children's Creativity Museum

"Art With An Edge"

Young creativity is blossoming inside this space-age glass and metal cone. The Children's Creativity Museum is the place for budding kid and teen artists to hone their skills while also discovering new ones. Visual, media and performing artists are always on hand to interact with the museum's visitors. Children are encouraged to help with projects, including stop-motion animation, digital photography, and the cutting-edge, new media form of web casting. Do not miss the Charles Loof carousel (circa 1906); its hand-carved wooden animals have been restored to their original baroque perfection. There is also a theater on the premises used for various performances of different genres that stem outside the children's genre. This place is wonderful fun for the whole family.

Shadowlight Productions

"Ethereal Puppet-Theater"

This is a modern troupe dedicated to the ancient Indonesian art of shadow puppets. The programs range from classic myths from Southeast Asia to modern interpretations of classic stories about Kublai Khan, to startlingly vibrant productions of contemporary tales such as their virtuoso performance of Joseph Marchs Jazz Age poem, The Wild Party. Most, but not all, are suitable for kids. All are magically beautiful. This company also welcomes audience members backstage after each show to see how the magic is made. Performances are at various venues around the Bay Area.

Kabeltram museum

"Geheimen Onthuld"

Als je wilt weten hoe een kabeltram werkt, is het Kabeltrammuseum de plek om dit te leren. De eerste kabeltram ter wereld staat hier en met een precieze uitleg over hoe deze kleine kabeltrams zich tot halverwege de sterren komen. In een ondergrondse bezichtigingruimte kun je de enorme kabelwielen zien die 18 kilometer kabel met een snelheid van 15 kilometers per uur voort trekken. De kabeltrams bewegen door aan de kabel vast te haken. Onderzoek van dichtbij de stalen kabels, de uitrusting en de karretjes die het meest bekende middel van transport van de stad tot leven brengen. Mis de winkel niet, waar je je eigen stuk gebruikte kabel kunt kopen.

Chinatown Kite Shop

"Classic Chinese Designs"

Do not let the small size of this store fool you, there are hundreds of different kinds of kites here. Some like the soaring Bugs Bunny, are not what you'd call traditionally Asian, but look around. The very traditional goldfish, dragons, and butterflies in vibrant colors are sold at economical prices depending on the size. Some ultra-modern, aerodynamic wonders are also available, including spirals that trail for several feet. A good selection of kite-strings and spools is also available.

Seward Mini Park

"Slides of Fun"

Tucked away amidst the houses of Seward Street is a set of concrete slides. The slides were built upon the designs of Kim Clark, who was only 14 years old at that time. What was once a vacant lot is today a mini park that thrills and delights children and adults alike. At the center of the park lies a pair of steep concrete slides that are perfect to be enjoyed by the entire family. Laugh till your sides ache and bask in the after-glow of the adrenaline rush that is sure to engulf you as you slide down the Seward Street slides. The park is open daily during daylight hours, and all adults must be accompanied by a child. You will find a few cardboard boxes at the park to ride down the slides, however you are always welcome to bring your own along.

AT&T Park

"Thuis van de Giants"

De naam mag dan anders zijn, het spel blijft hetzelfde. Het Voormalige Pac Bell Park en SBC Park, AT&T Park is het eerste privaat gefinancierde honkbalstadion in de Major League Baseball sinds het Dodger Stadium (1962), het nieuwe thuis van de San Francisco Giants biedt een inspirerend negen foot standbeeld van de beste nog levende Amerikaanse basebalspeler, Willie Mays, bij de ingang. Home runs die in de McCobey Cove (genoemd naar een andere Willie in de hall of fame) terecht komen; een 80-foor (24 meter) Coca Cola fles met glijbanen en een miniatuur AT&T Park achter het left-field zijn een magneet geworden voor de kinderen van alle leeftijden. En het publieke doorgang die ieder ander sportcomplex in de wereld uitdaagt.

Circus Center

"Clown College of USA"

The Circus Center in San Francisco is the only academic institute to train clowns and other circus professionals in the country. Beginning in 1984 as a part of the Pickle Family Circus' workshop that teaches children circus skills, the concept gained huge popularity. Soon regular classes started being conducted here. Till date, there are several training programs for adults and children training them in skills such as acrobatics, juggling and of course, clowning. The institute also serves as a venue for circus performances many times a year.

Pier 39

"Fisherman's Wharf's Major Attraction"

This San Francisco landmark features some of Fisherman's Wharf's best shopping and attractions. Ride the carousel, people watch, or take in views of the bay. There are more than 25 one-of-a-kind gift stores that carry automobile, Hollywood, and rock 'n' roll memorabilia, as well as flags of the world, Russian dolls, collectible knives, hammocks, kites, and more. But that's not all. You will find over 30 more stores, including the famous Na Hoku to shop for clothing, jewelry and toys. It is a great place to pick up high-end San Francisco souvenirs. When you're done shopping and eating to your heart's content, visit the famous resident sea lions for a prime photo session. Pier 39 is a magnet for locals and tourists for many reasons, including their calendar of special attractions for the whole family like the Tulipmania tulip festival held in late February or the Holiday Tree Lighting in November.

USS Pampanito (SS-383)

"Through World War II"

The U.S.S Pampanito, a fleet submarine in World War II, was made open to the public in 1982. It is famous for its six patrols in the Pacific ocean and for sinking six Japanese ships and damaging four others. This ship seems quite interesting and exciting as you get a opportunity to check everything yourself. You can take a look at the main deck, the engine, the motor rooms and the control rooms. It's a real experience to observe the life of officers and seamen and that too, at a reasonable fee.
