

"Best Diners in San Francisco"

Gecreëerd door : Cityseeker

 9 Locaties in uw favorieten

 by Franco Folini

Tommy's Joynt

"Casual Americana"

Both inside and out, Tommy's Joynt is an eyeful! It is huge and historic, with murals, animal heads, and various odds and ends, all packed into a building that is over 100 years old. Lines can be long, but you will move down the cafeteria-style procession quickly. Choose your sandwich, grab a pickle from the barrel, and sit. A server will be by soon to take your beer order. The international selection, both on tap and by the bottle, is shockingly large for such an all-American place.

 +1 415 775 4216

 www.tommysjoyst.com/

 joynt.tommys@gmail.com

 1101 Geary Boulevard, San Francisco CA

 by _

Taylor Street Coffee Shop

"Fresh Breakfast Near Union Square"

This little cafe in the heart of the Tenderloin has a host of delicious breakfast options offered at reasonable prices. Favorites include the variety in omelets, eggs, sausages, hash browns and other vegetarian options. Wonderfully presented fresh fruit is also served with almost everything and the service is friendly. There are also sandwiches and other lunch options. Come early if you want to avoid the wait.

 +1 415 567 4031

 375 Taylor Street, San Francisco CA

Cafe Mason

"Whenever You Like!"

This contemporary American bistro is a godsend to people who like to eat late at night. It makes a great alternative to 24-hour greasy spoons. This modern diner has a retro feel. Sit on the red padded bar stools at the chrome counter and slurp up a chocolate milkshake. Located in the theater district, a block from Union Square, Cafe Mason serves breakfast, lunch or dinner whenever you want and at affordable prices. The cooks make most things from scratch including home-made pastas, desserts, soups, and sauces. Nothing beats hot buttermilk pancakes topped with pure maple syrup at 4a.

 +1 415 544 0320

 masondiner.com/

 320 Mason Street, Between Elwood Street and Ofarrell Street, San Francisco CA

 by "Alessandro Alimonti on"

Grubstake

"Unexpected & Delicious"

Do not mistake this diner with a typical San Francisco tourist trap. Beyond the garishly painted exterior featuring the Golden Gate Bridge and a curly-cue city skyline, you will find a cozy converted railroad car that serves up some very fine burgers, fries and milkshakes. But that is not all. Portuguese specialties such as Bacalhau a Gomes de Sa (codfish with eggs and olives) can be found depending, according to the menu, on availability. The service is always good, but the crowd changes with the hour. Daytime and early evening, it is full of local professionals with their families and students from around town. Later at night, after the area bars have closed down, it becomes a bit more boisterous with people drifting in for a bite and a cup of java after a night of drinking.

 +1 415 673 8268

 www.sfgrubstake.com/

 fcsantos@sbcglobal.net

 1525 Pine Street, Between Van Ness and Polk Street, San Francisco CA

 by nick.amoscato

+1 415 563 9780

Eddie's Cafe

"Simple yet Delicious Breakfast Fare"

Eddie's Cafe features simple yet utterly delicious breakfast fare. The decor is that of a classic diner complete with kitschy mugs, family atmosphere and friendly service. The biscuits are made from scratch and the hash browns are one of their most popular à la carte items. This establishment is cash only so be sure to stop by the ATM before you arrive!

 800 Divisadero Street, San Francisco CA

 by Lee+Edwin+Coursey

+1 415 673 1101

 www.swanoysterdepot.us/

 1517 Polk Street, San Francisco CA

Swan Oyster Depot

"Kom Die Geschiedenis Heeft Gemaakt"

Trek er een stoel bij aan de toonbank van het Swan Oyster Depot en geniet van een aantal van de beste Boston Clam Chowder die je ooit zult proeven. Naast de Clam, worden de meeste gerechten op het menu rauw geserveerd, cocktail stijl. Het Depot is een vismarkt. Je kunt er een filet kopen om thuis te bakken. De sfeer is volledig informeel, je kunt er niet reserveren, maar het is het waard om te wachten.

+1 415 986 0700

 www.searsfinefood.com/

 manager@searsfinefood.com

 439 Powell Street, San Francisco CA

Sears Fine Food

"Late Breakfast Anyone"

Sears Fine Food is a good option for breakfast till 3pm everyday for all the sleepyheads and also for the sheer joy of digging into Swedish pancakes with maple syrup and fresh whipped butter. If you are going there for breakfast, be prepared to queue up. Lunch and dinner menus are also appetizing and they have a great wine selection to go with it. Old school decor in the recently refurbished restaurant keeps the old world charm intact and the staff add an extra dose of charm.

Orphan Andy's

"The Fabulous 50s Live!"

The red leather covering in the booths and on the chrome-stemmed stools at the counter let you know that this Castro Street institution is proudly 1950s retro. The food is classic 1950s diner fare, with hamburgers cooked to order and fries that are tender on the inside and crunchy on the outside. The milkshakes are almost too thick to get through the straw. Other sweet treats are from some of the finest bakeries in the Bay Area. The prices, too, are affordable. Located on the corner of Castro, this is a great place for people watching.

+1 415 864 9795

3991 17th Street, Between Castro Street & Hartford Street,
San Francisco CA

 by brendan-c

Sam's Pizza and Burgers

"Simple and Delicious"

Sam's Pizza and Burgers offers a simple, uncomplicated menu, featuring All-American fast food for delightfully low prices. Expect to find here a wide range of burgers, pizzas and such that have brought in the locals and tourists in droves ever since 1966! These offerings, albeit lax on the health factor, are truly delicious and highly addictive. The Telegraph Hill eatery features simple and comfortable furniture that is conducive for a relaxed meal with the family or a close group of friends. Drop in and enjoy one of their freshly-grilled, juicy hamburgers with toothsome fries anytime you get the munchies - they're open all week, well into the wee hours of morning!

+1 415 391 1539

618 Broadway Street, San Francisco CA

KIJK MET ONS MEE:

cityseeker.com