The Generator Hostel London

"One Of Europe's Largest Hostels"

The Generator Hostel London was opened in 1995, and is one of Europe's largest hostels, catering to all young travelers from student groups to individual backpackers (the minimum age is ten). It is centrally located in Russell Square, close to Covent Garden, Piccadilly Circus and Leicester Square, so it's a great place to stay if you want to go shopping and sightseeing in central London. Basic accommodation in comfortable, futuristic surroundings is offered, and guests have a choice of single, twin, multi-bedded and dormitory-style bedrooms. Wash basins and hot showers available 24 hours a day in each room. The Generator Bar is something to look forward to. Turbine games and television room are open 24 hours a day. Talking Heads internet room and tourist information centre. No curfew or lock out. Free luggage storage. There are discounts for groups and for stays of more than five nights.

Palmers Lodge-Swiss Cottage

"Backpackers' Dream"

One of the Palmers Lodge Boutique Hostels is to be found at College Crescent. This is a place that caters to those who want to experience all that London has to offer, without exhausting their budget on accommodation alone. The location is such that you can reach many of London's attractions within a short span of time. From Swiss Cottage Station, which is less than a mile away, you can be transported to Oxford Street, Leicester Square and even Buckingham Palace. Palmers makes an attempt to provide on-site recreation as well, which is why, in addition to the bar and restaurant, you will come across reading rooms, and in keeping with hostel tradition, common rooms as well. What's great is that, unlike most hostels, this one has no lock-out curfew, so stay out and explore London as late as you like!
