Camparino In Galleria

"Of Iconic Drinks"

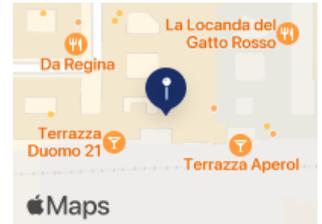

This is one of the places which made Milan famous as a city for drinking. Campari - a well-known drink used for cocktails or drunk on its own - was invented here in 1867. The splendid Galleria is opposite the Duomo, and the raised panoramic hall is decorated in period style. Camparino In Galleria is a fantastic place that illustrates culture and history. It claims to be an institution, and not a cafe. Whatever you ask for will be given to you, whether you are a VIP, a tourist or a local.

Ristorante Da Giacomo

"Typical Tuscan Diner"

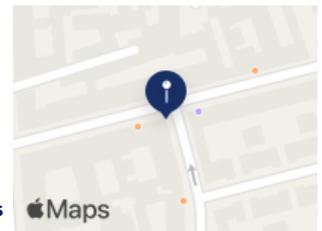

Ristorante Da Giacomo is a welcoming, peaceful and stylish family run place in which to spend a romantic evening, or to dine with a friend. The dining area is decorated in an early twentieth century style, with columns, arches and art deco lamps. The place is warm and welcoming, and there is a fresh vase of flowers on every table. House specialities are fish dishes: Swordfish Steak alla Giacomo, among other choices. The meat dishes are also excellent, and the desserts are recommended. The wine list offers a wide choice of quality vintages.

Just Cavalli Café

"High & Mighty"

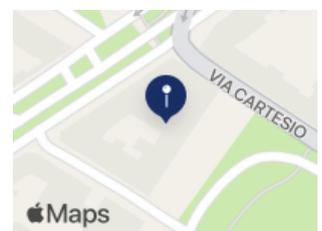

Designed by the versatile Tuscan designer Roberto Cavalli, 'Just Cavalli Cafe' is a meeting place of the high class society of Milan. The interiors are done tastefully with teak floors, small spotlights and comfortable seats with a look that changes once a year. A beautiful outdoor flower garden with sofa cushion chairs and candles, that complements the foot thumping music of the DJ, is quite inviting. Nominated as the "Best Non-Disco Club 2003", for most innovative style and glamor, this is the right place to add a bit of pinch and glamor to your food and drinks.

Giannino

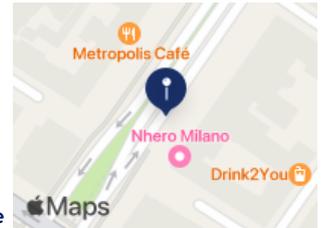

"Temple of Tradition"

Giannino is a temple of Italian traditional haute cuisine, where you can relax assured of the fact that this is an excellent quality restaurant. Belle époque rooms create a sophisticated atmosphere while perfect service makes this high-end diner worth a visit. If you go there for lunch don't take your car: parking can be really hard, since the little parking lot just outside is always full. Customers can be assured that anything on the menu is first-class, from home-made pastas to seafood, from desserts to wines. Their specialties include saffron risotto, turbot with laurel and sweet garlic sauce, and the cream and apricot dessert. One special suggestion is the classic Cotoletta alla milanese: Giannino's version is sublime.
