Pasticceria Marchesi

"Cakes To Remember"

What began as a humble pastry shop in 1824 has gained the status of a landmark eatery over the years, and with good reason. Located on Via Santa Maria alla Porta, this iconic address remains the city's favored spot for specialty desserts, pastries and delicate Italian delights. The pastry shop is now designed to operate as a restaurant as well, with plenty of seating to enjoy the famous Panettone Christmas cake or the decadent Amor Polenta breakfast cake. Those who come here for the classics can choose from a bevy of chocolate-infused delights, pralines and brioche specialties.

La Veranda

"Popular Restaurant"

The Four Seasons Hotel does not need an introduction and the same holds true for its famous in-house restaurant La Veranda as well. With a hoard of who's who of Milan flocking to this place, the place is popular among the tourists and locals alike. Try their delectable assortment of Mediterranean delicacies or order an elaborate meat preparation. Vegetarians will be able to enjoy a comfortable and delicious meal here. Also, special attention is given to children who can indulge in dishes from a separate menu. With emphasis given to high quality taste and presentation, this upscale eatery deserves all the attention and popularity it has gained over the years. Check website for further details.
