AIRE Ancient Baths

"Not Your Ordinary Spa"

There's no better way to take a break from the jet set life than to indulge in a few hours of pure bliss and relaxation at a spa. Picture a Roman-style, luxurious bath that makes you feel like royalty! If that sounds appealing, head straight to TriBeCa where Aire Ancient Baths is located. Offering such unique experiences, this reclaimed textile-factory-turned-spa is a candlelit oasis with tranquil pools of different temperatures and marble steam rooms. The bathing ritual is followed by a deep-tissue massage, which is guaranteed to soothe those stressed out muscles and put a spring back in your step. In following with their Roman-style setup, they also offer the Red Wine Ritual, where you actually soak in a tub of red wine before getting a massage using wine essence oils.

Governors Island

"A Walk Through History"

A short ferry ride from Lower Manhattan takes visitors to the serene and verdant Governors Island, where the city seems as if it is a world away. The island showcases its picturesque self during summers; in fact, it only opened to the public after 200 years of restricted military usage. The island affords some incredible views of its surrounding waterscape, Red Hook, Brooklyn, the Verrazano Bridge and the Manhattan skyline. The island is also home to some stirring historical sites like Castle Williams, Liggett Hall and the Admiral House, which are an escape into the island's past. Having played an integral role in the American Revolution, this island is a coastal paradise par excellence.

High Line

"Elegantly Designed Park"

The High Line is an urban oasis filled with beautifully manicured landscapes. It sits above the city on old train tracks that were installed as part of the West Side Improvement Project back in 1929. The line was primarily used to transport goods along the Lower West Side, but with the advent of vehicles in the 1950s and more accessible routes elsewhere, the last train eventually ran in 1980. Thereafter, the elevated tracks fell into disrepair, and the whole structure was nearly demolished. It was instead converted into an innovative public park, delighting locals and visitors alike. Today, the High Line is a cherished sanctuary away from the bustle of city life.

Central Park

"More than a Park"

An emerald expanse in the thriving, concrete jungle that is New York City, Central Park lies in the heartland of the Manhattan borough. It commences its labyrinthine stretch from Midtown, all the way to Harlem. It was created in 1857 by Frederick Law Olmsted and Calvert Vaux, who envisioned a sprawling green space in the center of the island. The park spans 843 acres (341.15 hectares) and bustles with life throughout the day, even as the layered, multi-hued fold of the city's skyline unfolds at its hem. The park's 21 playgrounds are speckled with ornate fountains, sculptures, myriad bridges and arches, together forming an urbane respite where several come to find peace from the city's chaotic pace. Attractions within the park include the Bethesda Fountain, the Conservatory Garden, Belvedere Castle and Central Park Zoo.
