Tiny Jewel Box

"A Real Treasure"

"Tiny Jewel Box" are the last words one would use to describe this store, which dubs itself "a Washington treasure." It contains several floors, each devoted to particular merchandise. The top floor is reserved for customers with a private appointment. The jewelry here is exquisite and of the highest quality, as are the myriad crystal objects like the fragile vases and candlesticks. The exquisite antique and vintage jewelry is sure to make you sigh with longing. Among these classics find stunning creations by designers Paul Morelli and Alex Sepkus. Precious coffee mugs and children's sweaters are available too.

Lettie Gooch Boutique

"Funky Threads with Soho Flair"

The Lettie Gooch Boutique embodies the vibe of power women in the U Street district. The boutique proudly showcases designer brands such as House of Dereon, couture by Beyonce Knowles' mother, Tina, and also spotlights local jewelry artisans. Ecoist bags, recycled candy wrapper accessories which look like they were handmade at a kiosk in Cancun, are a favorite among customers. The store is named after the owner's grandmother, who is remembered in the community as being a "pillar of strength and uniquely fashion forward."
