Perch

"Dine In The Sky"

Perched atop the imposing Pershing Square Building, Perch is a gem of a French bistro. The splendid alfresco setup, accentuated by fireplaces and fire pits, sets you up for what's in store in the kitchen. The restaurant serves delicious classic French cuisine in LA's scintillating atmosphere. Featuring separate menus for brunch, dinner, and late nights, it offers an unforgettable culinary journey. The regular delicacies like Ahi Tuna Tartare and Caesar Salad are dished out with flair, as are the traditional dishes like Bouillabaisse and Duck Confit. In the end, a glass of Armagnac or Calvados from its bar is enough to round off a fine dining experience.

Eightytwo

"Arcade Mania"

Gaming arcades were a fad from the 1960s through the 1990s and are now considered to be more like vintage collectibles. Now, two downtown residents in LA have thrown open the doors of a bar and a gaming arcade for adults to relive their childhood memories. The Eighty Two bar in Los Angeles has an array of classic arcade games like Pac-Man, Centipede, Pinball and other such classics. You can enjoy your games with the drinks they serve. Their bar features craft cocktails and draft beers. This place has an airy arcade area and a large outdoor seating area. The atmosphere gets lighter in the evenings with DJs that play a groovy mix of songs. Although technology has advanced, there's nothing like old school arcade machines with coin slots. So come in and get gaming!

Caña Rum Bar

"A Downtown Bar with Swagger"

This exclusive bar requires a membership, but before you jump ship, know that it's USD20 a year to gain access, which is the equivalent of a club cover charge for just one night in Los Angeles! With dimly lit interiors and a gorgeous bar adorned with fruits, spirits, spices, and herbs, this establishment has a decor of the ingredients that make potent rum-infused cocktails. Caña boasts over 100 rums, and each variety has a unique character as these are small-batch liqueurs. In addition to the excellent rum collection, the gorgeous outdoor seating is Caña's other unique proposition. The warmth of a fireplace and cane seating spaces here allows patrons to become oblivious to the outside world.

The Red Lion Tavern

"German Beer Hall"

This maze-like Bavarian bar and restaurant is a find you will not forget. How it got here is beside the point; it has practically become an historic treasure. Sample one of the great German beers and do not forget to try the amazing food. The Bratwurst, in particular, is worth a repeat visit. If you are meeting friends, make sure you know in which room to venture in to for it is quite likely for one to get lost here.

E.P. & L.P.

"Dine With a Spectacular View"

E.P. and L.P. is the perfect place to dine if you are looking to enjoy a lively evening. The E.P. Asian Eating House serves Asian fusion street food like Persimmon Curry and Papaya Salad and the L.P. rooftop bar has one of the best views of the Hollywood Hills and Basin, making it a great place to enjoy a sunset or warm night out while sipping on cocktails and wine. If you are anywhere in the neighborhood, definitely try out E.P. and L.P. and order a glass of wine, a sultry snack and relax by the fire pit. The bar also serves brunch during the Summer.
