Flight Club

"The Holy Grail of Sneakers"

Vintage kicks and cool retro sneakers are Flight Clubs' specialty. This consignment shop has seamlessly pioneered the process of buying and selling high-end sneakers to and from clients around the world. Their Los Angeles storefront is an amalgamation of rare editions, obscure classics, and unworn vintage sneakers that have been meticulously merchandised, cataloged and stored. Best of all, Flight Club is straightforward in its sneaker buying and selling business. No VIP alerts, lottery raffles, or standing in line, if you can make it to the shop in time, those prized shoes are yours to treasure.

Saks Fifth Avenue

"A Beverly Hills Institution"

Saks Fifth Avenue is a first-class store and has been a part of the Beverly Hills scene since 1938. The shop sells high-end merchandise for those who are looking to spend more in order to get the best. The largest store in Beverly Hills, it still offers terrific service and personal assistance for those who need a little extra care. The store carries most top designers' lines and has an extensive shoe selection. Along with Neiman Marcus and Barneys, this is one of the best department stores in Los Angeles.
