Dog Bark Park Inn

"Cozy Dog-House"

Styled as a giant dog, the Dog Bark Park Inn is a cozy bed and breakfast that promises an enjoyable experience to families. The property is owned by Dennis and Frances, who are chainsaw artists, and who also have their own shop, selling a range of wooden dog carvings. The guest house is built inside the World's biggest beagle, and the loft, situated on the dog's muzzle (top floor) is a nice place for children to sleep. The rooms at this lodge are equipped with the necessary amenities, and also have private bathrooms. An exciting place for a short vacation, Dog Bark Park welcomes you with its warm service and cozy atmosphere.

Hang Nga Crazy House

"Crazy World"

Enter a world of crooked stairways, cave-like sitting rooms and giant spider webs at the Hang Nga Crazy House. The place draws many tourists and locals because of its eccentric attractions. Nicknamed as 'crazy house' by the locals, you can find here a giraffe tea room, bridges shaped like branches, guest rooms with bear skin rugs and other such nutty stuff. The house has been built by Hang Nga, daughter of former President of Vietnam, Truong Chinh. Much of the furniture and decor here of the guest rooms are inspired from fantasy and folklore. Visiting this place is a complete fun experience.

Free Spirit Spheres

"Unusual Tree Houses"

Free Spirit Spheres are giant orbs which are suspended from huge Douglas fir trees and giving a new dimension to tree house accommodation. Offering three types of spheres which are distinct in size, amenities and material, these 'rooms' have many windows offering you a glimpse of the forest life and fauna. Equipped with basic electric power and heating system, Free Spirit Spheres is an exciting weekend getaway that draws you closer to nature. It also acts like a gentle swing when the wind blows, but then these spheres are not for the meek hearted.

Wanderlust Hotel

"For the Whimsical Traveler"

For travelers looking for a place that is simply put both weird and wonderful, Wanderlust just fits. The four levels, each themed and styled to eclectic themes such as Creative Comforts and Industrial Glam, visually appeal to the creative traveler. Once the bombardment of color is done, the art pop rooms also function well with comforts that include Posturepedic beds and Toto rain showers. The in-hotel dining space, Cocotte, offers lunch and dinner and following the general appeal of the hotel, follows no fixed menu. A fascinating place to stay while here on holiday!
