The Prado at Balboa Park

"Promenade to the Prado"

Located in the House of Hospitality within the green confines of Balboa Park, The Prado is a restaurant/venue that holds weddings, parties and of course a splendid lunch and dinner service. Despite its location inside one of the many splendid Spanish Colonial buildings, the food could be defined as New American. With items like duck breast, prime rib, NY Strip and salmon, the only dish which renders homage to Old Spain is the paella. The lounge also holds a nice happy hour every day where drinks like the Prado Mule and glasses of Rioja and Cava are always perfect in the evening sun.

Khyber Pass

"Traditions of Afghanistan"

This popular establishment, hosting a menu and atmosphere that showcase the traditions of Afghanistan, is located in the heart of Hillcrest. The renovated restaurant is alive with bright fabrics encompassing the room. Traditional Afghani cuisine dominates the menu. Culinary choices include Aushak (scallion-filled dumplings), Zomorrod Chalow (lamb stew) and Aush (soup with vegetables and noodles). Eggplant is a popular item among appetizers and main dishes. Try the Bauraunee-Baunjaun, which is sauteed eggplant served with yogurt.
