Main Street

"Shop The Old West"

This 19th-century thoroughfare has been a premier shopping area since merchants set up shops catering to the town's founding miners. Shops, restaurants, bars and recreational service providers crowd into the old wooden building that line both sides of the street. Specialty shops range from Tiff's to Hay Charlie, and restaurants range from the trendy Zoom to the hopping Wasatch Brew Pub. Park City's nightlife is also centered here, with the Egyptian Theatre performances and an array of club action. The shop hours vary.

Utah Olympic Park

"Take in the Olympic Experience"

Home to the 2002 Olympic Winter Games, the Utah Olympic Park is open to sporting fans of all ages. Guided tours let you explore the top of the highest Nordic Jump, the world's fastest bobsled, luge and skeleton track or even watch aspiring Olympians train for the next Games. Tours are offered every day and include admission to the Alf Engen Ski Museum/2002 Legacy Gallery featuring interactive and virtual exhibits including an Olympic downhill course. If a tour isn't exciting enough, jump into the action at 80 mph on a bobsled ride down the Olympic track with a professional driver, dropping 435 feet on the world's steepest zipline, or taking a luge, skeleton or Nordic jumping introductory camp. Please note that while access to the park, museums and hiking trails are free, there may be a fee involved for many of the activities offered on site.

Heber Valley Railroad

"Historic & Scenic Rail Route"

Built in 1899, what began as a means of transport for the early settlers of Heber Valley is now known as the Heber Valley Historic Railroad. Running along the railroad are a select few vintage trains, which take passengers along the scenic vistas of the valley. Lakeside Limited and Deer Creek Express snake along the shores of Deer Creek Reservoir and at the foot of the Wasatch Mountains. The Red Caboose, on the other hand, is a hit among children, with the many train-themed birthday parties held here. This all-season rail route has been rendered a favorite of locals and tourists alike. Whilst craning your neck out of this winding ride, do look out for sights of deer, elk, eagles and other wildlife.
