Block House

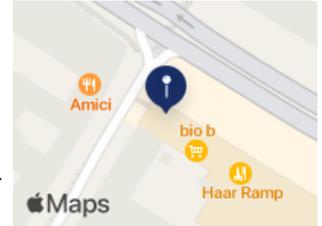

"A Meat and Potatoes Kind of Place"

Those who like a fine steak should have no trouble finding satisfaction at the American-style Block House, a restaurant that specializes in just that. Abundant portions of steak and other meats, fresh, and no-nonsense side-dishes are the rule here. The decor is attractive if not especially elegant, and the quality of the food and the service is reliable. As part of a chain restaurant, the Block House expects itself to accommodate a wide range of guests, so if you're traveling with fussy children or want a relaxed setting, it's a good choice.

The Ladies Diner

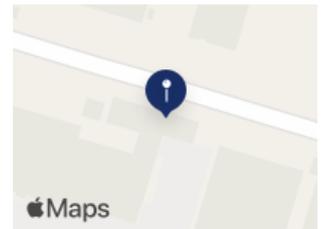

"Pink Is The Word"

The Ladies Diner is the brainchild of Jennifer Honnef and Nicole Höger, who are also known as the 'Pink Ladies' due to their 1950s themed pink-hued diner. While the restaurant is inspired by vintage American diners, the menu is crafted from their own recipes, using local ingredients. Everything made on-site and also includes vegan and vegetarian patties, and vegan sausages. Savor their dishes like Carry On Burger, Garlic Burger, Wannabe Steak Burger, Selfmade Spareribs and Yellow Submarine Dog. Wash it down with a delicious milkshake. Their beautifully decked diner will surely take you down a nostalgia trip. Please bring cash along as credit cards are not accepted.
