Mojo

"Stimulate your Mojo!"

Cherish your Mojo, like Mike Myers in Austin Powers and visit Mojo's blues bar in Copenhagen, with live blues every single night. In the evenings, live bands are on from about 10:30p, but acoustic blues often starts at 9p. On Fridays and Saturdays, an admission fee is charged, but on all other days admission is free. Mojo has a happy hour between 8p and 10p, during which draft beer can be bought for half price. Dancard is accepted.

Jazzhus Montmartre

"Jazz Station"

Copenhagen's best kept secret, Jazzhus Montmartre has seen the who's who of the jazz world. Bringing to the city some fine Jazz music, famed artists like Herbie Hancock, Elvin Jones, Joe Scofield, Marcus Miller and Eddie Gomez have all made appearances here. The place also serves up some of the finest and freshest Italian delicacies this side of town. Warm and welcoming, the Jazzhus Montmartre is where you will find Copenhagen's jazz lovers. Head to Jazzhus Montmartre, have a quick bite and a drink, and indulge in some of the best live jazz music Copenhagen has to offer. No food is allowed during performances, which start at 8p, so arrive early if you want something to eat.

Loppen

"Small Concert Club"

Loppen has in its fairly short history fought against violence, close-down threats and aversion, but has survived because of the strength of its non profit-making organization. With its location in the free city of Christiania, just next to Pusher Street, these conflicts may come as no surprise. Overcoming all odds, Loppen has fought for the good reputation it has now achieved. The club aims at a minimum of four concerts a week, in which the style is rock as well as alternative and pop. Some famous names on the program in the past have been The Verve, Smashing Pumpkins, Blur and The Cardigans. For bigger international concert names, tickets can often be booked in advance through Billetnet or Sex Beat Records.
