Bio Andreas

"Bread with Bite"

The name Bio Andreas doesn't say much, really. After you've shopped there, they'll be synonymous with the words bakery and cafe. They use a wood oven and at certain times you can watch the logs being dragged indoors between sips of coffee. What is important, though, is the sale of bread of all kinds: olive dough cakes, Speckbrot (bread with fat), etc. The fruit cakes and other sweet treats are also delicious. Although they may seem expensive, they are well worth the money. Come, eat and enjoy.

Brötlibar

"Vegetarian Sandwiches"

Brötli which means literally means 'Open Sandwich' is what this bar is named after. Established in 1906, this is not one of the newer vegetarian bars mushrooming in Basel. The Brötli Bar prides itself on being one of the few which prepares fresh fillings for its sandwiches every 30 minutes. You can either parcel your food or sit back in the very ambient bar with its dark wooden furnishings and cream ceilings and walls.

Tibits

"Vegetarian Delights"

Tibits is a lovely vegetarian restaurant that has won many hearts across the country. The restaurant's varied breakfast menu draws patrons in large numbers. Quality and quantity of food both go hand in hand. The menu might seem to be a little pricey, but the food is surely worth the money. Nachos, Som Tum Thai Salad, Wakame Salad and Chia Coconut Pudding are some of the items from the menu. So whether it is to start your day or end your day, your visit here is going to be worthwhile.

Kunsthalle Restaurant

"Garden Restaurant for all Seasons"

The Kunsthalle has two faces— the brasserie-style pub with beautiful murals and lots of patina finishes (loved by students and artists for years). The second section is an exclusive restaurant, separated off by a short wall for Basel's upper crust. Both sections are served by the same team but have separate menus, both benefiting from a fusion of French and Italian cuisines. In the summer, enjoy patio dining at one of the most attractive garden restaurants in Basel.
