Four Green Fields

"Irish Hospitality Abounds"

To experience one of the best pints of Guinness in the city, a visit to this authentic thatched-roof establishment is a must. The pub sports all things Irish, including live folk music, excellent food and fine Irish whiskeys. Allow plenty of time: this place is popular and is usually packed. Traditional favorites such as Shepherd's Pie, Dublin Fish and Chips and authentic Irish Stew are featured on the menu. Add a pint of your favorite lager or ale and join the lively crowd at the bar or head outside to the deck where there's plenty of room to revel in.

Caddy's on the Beach

"Caddy's Beach Bum Benevolence"

From the coastal highway that runs down St. Petersburg's Treasure Island, it's easy to miss the one story white facade of Caddy's on the Beach. Approach from the sand, however, and you'll wonder how anyone could miss the two story restaurant and bar complex. Right on the beach, this double decker bar and grill is a favorite of locals and party-goers. Revelers in tropically hued bikinis and board shorts festoon the balcony at Caddy's, most all of them with a similarly bright cocktail in hand. For hungrier patrons, Caddy's offers an overwhelmingly long menu that focuses on smoky barbecue fare rather than the area's typical seafood spread. With a minimum purchase, guests can also commandeer a private cabana right on the beach for private sunset views with full service.

O'Brien's Irish Pub

"Living The Irish Way"

O'Brien's pub is a great place to have a pint of beer and delicious Irish-pub food. It has been in business for a decade and is a warm, friendly, family run pub. Infact, all their food is cooked using classic homemade recipes. They have a mouth-watering menu with dishes, such as O'Briens Prime Rib, known to be the best in the city. It is cooked using an Irish whiskey recipe! If that sounds appealing, then also try the Gaelic Grill. Try the Irish Breakfast which is served daily and feast like a King. The pub livens up a bit after 9p with the arrival of a live band that plays on till after midnight.
