Mantel Wine Bar & Bistro

"International Eclecticism in Bricktown"

You will find French, southwest American, Italian and fusion cuisine on the menu at this intimate restaurant in Bricktown. With inside seating for 82 maximum, this restaurant is very small and romantic. You can sit on the patio cafe style and watch the passers-by. There is a full bar and a large wine list in this unusual restaurant. Try the Salmon au Poivre or the Seafood Diane if you are in the mood for something from the sea. The pasta dishes are very popular as well.

Ludivine

"Simply Divine"

This restaurant which features farm-to-fork ingredients is elegant, cozy and propelled by creativity in the kitchen. The menu highlights include the constantly changing Charcuterie plate, meticulously prepared entrees like the Ponderosa Farms Duck Meatballs and the perfectly Pan Roasted Neah Bay Ling Cod, alongside their exquisite desserts. Don't forget about their extensive wine list, it has varietals from across the globe and every glass can be matched with your meal. Overall, this restaurant could rival any other in San Francisco or New York City with its impeccable service, outstanding ambiance and innovative dishes.

Metro Wine Bar & Bistro

"An American Bistro"

In Nichols Hills, you will find this upscale casual American bistro serving a large variety of foods from fresh seafood and steak to pasta and liver and onions. The most popular menu item, the half-roasted chicken with garlic is served with vegetables and whipped potatoes, it truly is sublime simplicity. While the atmosphere is a bit on the fancier side, with white tablecloths and candles on each table, the attitude is still casual.

Michael's Grill

"Elite Dining"

Since 1996, this very exclusive restaurant has been serving the truly wealthy of Oklahoma City. Located adjacent to the Oklahoma City Country Club, its regulars are often members of the club. The minimalist decor creates a rather austere environment, and the dress code requirement keeps out the riff-raff. This is generally not a family-friendly restaurant either. The menu offers a delicious array of steak, seafood and several Italian specialties, alongside a formidable wine list. Call for reservations and opening hours.
