Anaheim Hills Golf Course

"Beautiful But Difficult"

This is a very hilly course that is no small challenge, even for experienced golfers. Because there are so many hills, some of the views are breathtaking - don't let it distract you from your swing! This is a unique course designed in 1972 by Richard Bigler and can be quite fun for those who are tired of the average course and are looking for a new challenge. Don't forget to check out the clubhouse which features an onsite restaurant and bar.

Coyote Hills Golf Course

"Coveted Golf Venue"

Coyote Hills Golf Course was built in 1996 by Cal Olson and is located in the splendid foothills of Orange County. This 18-hole public course is managed by American Golf Corp. and is one of the most sought after venues for PGA tours. Spread across 250 acres (101 hectares) of semi-hilly terrain, the course is marked by streams, lakes, shrub plantations, gnat-catchers and coyotes. The course has a fabulous banquet space and is a coveted wedding venue as well. The Coyote Grill Cafe at the course, offers a sumptuous platter, which is thoroughly enjoyable after a few tees. A full driving range, practice greens, and a golf pro-shop are also available.

Arroyo Trabuco Golf Club

"A Day on the Green"

Set against the backdrop of the Saddleback Mountains, the Arroyo Trabuco Golf Club is a scenic choice for a round of golf. Designed by Tom Lehman, the 18-hole, championship course straddles Trabuco Creek and features sprawling greens, well-groomed fairways, sand traps and sparkling ponds for a challenging game that is nonetheless relaxing. There's also a driving range where you can warm up your swing before hitting the course, and a well-stocked pro shop to cater to all your golfing needs. After a day on the green, head to the restaurant at the clubhouse for a delicious meal, or unwind at the bar with a view of the course and the rolling hills just beyond. The clubhouse overlooks the spectacular greens and is a great choice for weddings and other private events as well.
