La Utielana

"Good Fish, Rice & Salads"

This excellent restaurant which keeps alive traditional customs specializes in "fabada" (pork and white bean stew), traditional rice dishes, and the most recommended red mullet (fish). The menu also includes a large variety of meats, salads, fish, and rice, with a special dish every day of the week. You cannot make reservations, therefore it is suggested that you arrive early because it is very popular (both for its prices and the food). The service is quick, friendly and efficient. The decoration is simple and without any type of fuss.

Cinnamon

"Dine Like Locals"

Cinnamon is a hidden gem of a restaurant in Valencia, where one can dine like the locals, and enjoy some delicious food. The beef tartare and tune tartare are must-haves, along with other preparations such as octopus, ox burgers, carpaccio and more. End the meal with the taste of their blissfully light and yummy brownie for dessert.

La Cepa Vieja

"Seasonal Delights"

This contemporary restaurant offers diners an authentic taste of local flavor through a seasonal offer that draws inspiration of the traditions of Mediterranean cuisine. The four course menu changes daily, featuring dishes prepared using locally-sourced, seasonal produce, with the option to add a dessert and wine pairings. While the food is nothing short of divine, La Cepa Vieja also offers an excellent selection of wines that complement each dish to perfection. The restaurant itself is a picture of contemporary elegance and is an inviting place to indulge in a culinary adventure.

A Tu Gusto

"Contemporary Mediterranean Fare"

Run by Salvador Furio, A Tu Gusto serves up delicious Mediterranean-inspired fare. Not only is the food prepared from fresh, local ingredients but the seasonal also results in a variety of playful dishes. Tapas, traditional Spanish food, sandwiches and burgers are also served here besides the modern fare. If you are unsure about what to order, you can also call for one of the prix fixe menus. The menu is great value for money offering quality dishes at prices that won't break the bank. Enjoy your meal in the cosy indoor setting or head outdoors and bask in the summer sun as you relish the delicious meals. If you are looking for a friendly place with amazing food, then A Tu Gusto is a great bet.
