Bauer II Palazzo

"Luxury at its Best in Venice"

Let this luxurious boutique hotel be your home during your stay in this romantic city. Each of its rooms and suites have a different look. Antique furniture, old Venetian look-a-like fabrics, and the famous Murano glass chandeliers add elegance to the interiors. Rooms at the Bauer II Palazzo are fitted with amenities like a television, air-conditioners, a telephone, a CD player and more, while the bathrooms are done up completely in Italian marble. Enjoy the city views over a delicious breakfast on the rooftop restaurant, or unwind over a drink at the bar. Refresh your senses with a steam bath, sauna or a massage at the spa. A good range of concierge services are available 24 hours a day. Various museums and interesting shops lie in the vicinity, and private water taxis are in close proximity too. Check website for more details.

The Gritti Palace

"Luxurious Hotel on the Canal Grande"

To experience how the affluent live, pay a visit to the Hotel Gritti Palace. With the Grand Canal providing a perfect romantic setting, and a look at the imposing dome, you get a fair idea of what to expect inside. The lobby with its mile high ceilings adorned with huge chandeliers, invites you into the lap of luxury. The plush rooms with lovely paintings, rich draperies, and all the modern conveniences offer a wonderful mix of old and new. The Club del Doge restaurant not only offers world class cuisine but also gives an enchanting view of the grand canal. Built in 1525, it served as residence to the Doge of Venice. Some of its most esteemed guests have included the British Royal family, Princes of Monaco, and Hollywood Stars. Ernest Hemingway went a step further and termed it the best hotel in Venice (he also has a suite of the hotel dedicated to him).

Charming House DD724

"Charms You in Every Way"

Steps away from famous tourist attractions such as the Galleria dell'Accademia and the Guggenheim, the Charming House DD.724 fuses technology with elegant design, creating an atmosphere for stylish comfort in this 18th Century palazzo. Rebelling against the traditional design of most Venetian hotels, DD.724 showcases abstract paintings by contemporary artists in the lobby. Each of the rooms and suites are individually designed, featuring wood-beamed ceilings, velvet armchairs and Signoria di Firenze linens. No two rooms of their exquisite masterpiece will look alike. Located in close proximity of most of the restaurants, cafes and bars the hotel lets you experience Venice in the most elegant way. The charming hotel is ideal for a romantic rendezvous.
