Bradbury Building

"Futuristic Victorian Interiors"

The Bradbury Building is the one of the most impressive Victorian buildings that remains in L.A. Determined to build a lasting monument as his final real estate development, millionaire Lewis Bradbury rejected conventional designs and urged draftsman George Wyman to give the building a more futuristic twist. Wyman initially turned down the offer as unprofessional, but was supposedly persuaded to change his mind after communicating with his deceased brother using a Ouija board. He ultimately created a masterpiece of oak paneling, tiled stairs, wrought-iron railings, open-cage elevators and a glass roof, which illuminates all.

Exposition Park

"Historical Park"

Built for the 1932 Olympic games, Exposition Park is now a venue for many sports and cultural events. Originally known as "Agricultural Park," it houses a sports arena, coliseum, museum, science center, rose garden, a swimming stadium and expo center. The park is bustling with activities throughout the year with events like Annual Bug Fair and Science Camp. The Rose Garden can be hired for special events and the Coliseum hosts popular sports events. Exposition Park also plays host to the L.A. Food Fest, a culinary extravaganza attracting food lovers from far and beyond.

Hollywood Forever Cemetery

"Resting Place Of The Stars"

This cemetery is as Hollywood as they come. Genuine elegance is provided by its Egyptian temples, Greek statues and Roman memorials. This is the final resting place for some of the most famous names in early Hollywood history including Cecil B. DeMille, Douglas Fairbanks and Rudolph Valentino. The Paramount Studios lot lies adjacent to these grounds, and many of its stars have been buried here. Some of the more impressive grave sites include the water-guarded mausoleum of William A. Clark, Jr. and Douglas Fairbanks' monument and reflecting pool.

Observatório Griffith

"Paisagem e shows incríveis"

Construído em estilo Art Déco, este observatório foi construído no início da década de 1930 e é um destaque entre os pontos turísticos do sul da Califórnia. Veja incríveis shows de luzes no Planetário Oschin, que usa a mais recente tecnologia. Fora do observatório, você encontrará vistas deslumbrantes da área próxima que são de tirar o fôlego durante o dia e a noite. Exposições e shows de planetário vão fascinar os visitantes. Alguns visitantes podem reconhecer o observatório como o local onde o clímax de Rebel Without a Cause foi filmado. Em noites claras, aproveite os telescópios públicos gratuitos para ver as estrelas de perto.

Calçada da Fama de Hollywood

"Nome e fama revisitados"

Calçada da Fama de Hollywood é uma atração repleta de estrelas que imortaliza artistas merecedores de todos os tipos; uma constelação de personalidades famosas dispostas ao longo da calçada. A Calçada da Fama é uma homenagem a Johnny Grant, ex-prefeito de Hollywood e promotor implacável de Tinsel Town. Abrangendo um trecho da calçada ao longo do Hollywood Boulevard, perto da interseção de Hollywood e Vine, mais de 2.600 estrelas incrustadas de latão homenageiam algumas das personalidades mais famosas da indústria do entretenimento, incluindo estrelas de cinema, apresentadores de programas de rádio, artistas, diretores de cinema, personalidades da TV e atores de teatro. Novas estrelas são adicionadas com frequência, um evento que é acompanhado com muita pompa e show, criando uma crônica em constante evolução do vibrante legado de Hollywood.

Capitol Records Building

"Record-Shaped Label Headquarters"

While the skyline of Hollywood is largely unspectacular, Capitol Records Building is one of the few exceptions. At the urging of label artists Nat King Cole and Johnny Mercer, this 13-story building was built in 1954 as the highly successful record label's headquarters, near the fabled Hollywood and Vine intersection. A mural at the building's southern face pays tribute to some of its jazz greats including Nat King Cole and Billie Holiday while a flashing light at the top of the building spells out "H-O-L-L-Y-W-O-O-D" to passing aircrafts.

El Capitan Theatre

"Yesteryear's Glory"

Originally built in 1926, this theater was completely renovated in 1991 by Pacific Theatres and The Walt Disney Company. It's now a premier movie palace that Disney uses to showcase its animated and children's features. Special features begin with a live stage show with a singing and dancing chorus of familiar Disney characters. Often short cartoons will precede the main show. Be sure to call or check the website for the movie and show times.

TCL Chinese Theatre

"Hollywood's Premier Movie House"

Formally Grauman's Chinese Theatre, TCL Chinese Theatre is known as one of the best landmarks in Hollywood. Many people visit this theater not to see first-run motion pictures, but to gaze at the famous hand and footprints on the ground outside. It's a quintessential Los Angeles tourist ritual and well worth the trip. The theater itself is one of the oldest and largest in town. The screen is massive and the sound is top-notch. Enter the Pagoda-like structure of this movie hall with dragons and lions welcoming you into the premises. Check out the exotic interiors and revel in the glory of days gone by. Moreover, a four-minute light and sound show projected onto the timeless facade of the theater offers a window into Hollywood's fascinating realm, taking onlookers on an exciting journey of the industry's most classic masterpieces. There is no charge to wander around the open-air patio "walk-of-fame" on the side-walk. Ticket prices vary depending on showtimes.

Hollywood Sign

"Ícone de Tinseltown"

Um dos símbolos mais marcantes de Los Angeles, o letreiro de Hollywood está no alto do Monte Lee. Esta peça de sinalização popular foi originalmente criada em 1923 para servir como um truque de publicidade para o desenvolvimento imobiliário, apenas para se tornar tão lendária quanto sua residência nos anos que se seguiram à Era de Ouro de Hollywood. Com vista para a expansão urbana de seu bairro homônimo, a placa brilha sob o sol californiano, profundamente icônica em suas letras brancas a uma altura de 13,4 metros. Faixas de barricadas e portões restritos impedem o acesso ao sinal, mesmo quando indivíduos aventureiros tentam ultrapassá-lo. Parte de uma camada cultural eterna que cobre a cidade de Los Angeles e talvez toda a América, este sinal histórico tornou-se um dos aspectos mais tangíveis do reino fantástico de Hollywood.

Rodeo Drive of Beverly Hills

"Upscale Shopping"

It isn't exaggerating to say that Rodeo Drive contains some of the most expensive real estate on the planet. Remember Julia Roberts' shopping spree in Pretty Woman? Rodeo Drive is where she went. The place boasts of a great mixture of clothing, restaurants, unique shops and celebrity spotting. Be warned, however, some of the stores are so exclusive, shopping is by appointment only.

Sunset Boulevard

"Where The Sun Never Sets"

Contrary to what most people think, Sunset Boulevard is not just another trendy boulevard with Hollywood written all over it. This is a 39 kilometer stretch which passes through some of Los Angeles' most celebrated neighborhoods like West Hollywood and Beverly Hills. Also known as Guitar Row because of numerous guitar shops, this timeless and iconic boulevard which has featured in art and cinema over the centuries will be etched forever in the hearts of L.A.'s people.

Venice Beach Boardwalk

"Surf, Sand, and Stores"

Venice is know for its beach, the glorious stretch of pristine white sands, the warm sunshine and the palm trees making for the perfect postcard. You need not step onto the beach in order to experience the vibrant culture of Venice, just walk along the bustling boardwalk and you will see the local scene unfold before you. Watch the street performers mesmerize spectators with their talents, buy something very unique from any of the shops that line the Boardwalk, or catch the attraction that is the Muscle Beach, where Arnold Schwarzenegger-worshippers pump iron and strive to look as big and muscular as possible.

Pier de Santa Mônica

"Passeios, compras e diversão sem fim"

Empoleirado sobre o Oceano Pacífico em Santa Monica, "The Pier" parece mais um carnaval do que um lugar para fazer compras. O Cirque du Soleil arma sua barraca na praia anualmente, e há shows e danças nos fins de semana no verão. Além dos muitos restaurantes e barracas de souvenirs, há um parque de diversões com montanha-russa, roda gigante, carrossel e fliperama. O final do pier oferece uma das melhores vistas do pôr do sol no condado de Los Angeles.

Mulholland Drive

"Quintessentially LA"

Stitching dizzily and whimsically for miles and bringing together some of the prettiest arroyos and canyons, Mulholland Drive has become symbolic of The City of Angels. As vertiginous and elusive as LA itself, this road is intermittently dazzling and daunting. The most famous pull-off offering a million-dollar view that has been showcased in countless films is just three miles west of Highway 101. Take a few minutes to stop by and enjoy the most perfectly framed angle of downtown Los Angeles with the highway ribbon snaking into the heart of it. This is the LA you'll never forget. To take in all that Mulholland has to offer, drive down the whole winding stretch of it, from Hollywood deep into the Valley. Enjoy the breathtaking vistas.
